Notes & Details

Hakka versatile burger press is designed to elevate your burger-making experience! This innovative tool features three interchangeable burger heads (4", 5", and 6") to meet different needs and maximize your production and profit potential. It includes a convenient removable wax paper holder for easy access and can be removed to optimize storage space. With three bags of food paper (1200 sheets total), you can fully master a variety of burger sizes. With an anodized aluminum base, this press is durable, stable and reliable, perfect for heavy use in commercial kitchens, restaurants, food trucks and hunters. Stainless steel ensures a stable placement during use, while its stainless steel bowl ensures high-strength performance in busy kitchen environments. With the easy-to-use handle, it's easy to create uniform burger patties - just press to shape the meat and release for consistent results. Ideal for making hamburgers, sausages, veggie burgers and crab cakes, this versatile tool will streamline your cooking operations with efficiency and ease.
